

Sole Provider Attestation Letter

To Whom This May Concern,

On behalf of Les Solutions Innov2Learn Inc., I hereby certify that the SpotV II (SKU: SPO03), a simulated vital signs monitor, developed and produced by our company, is, as of today and to the best of our knowledge, the sole simulator of its kind.

This tangible/true-feel device has been specifically designed to be affixed on a Spot Vital Signs monitor, such as the Welch Allyn model 42NTB, in order to simulate pretended blood pressure, pulse, and oxygen saturation readings on standardized patients (actors) and manikins (either animated/robotic or not). Its attach system, equipped with skates and double-sided tape, also allows the SpotV II to be used as a standalone device or affixed to other types and models of monitors.

The SpotV II is Bluetooth remote-controlled, powered by a rechargeable battery, and requires operation through a mobile application available on the App Store and Google Play/Play Store, as well as through a web-based application on computers, electronic tablets, and mobile phones.

Yours Sincerely,

Mike Boutin, CEO at Innov2Learn
